

MC 2055/2011
BEFORE
THE HON'BLE MR. JUSTICE B.P. KATAKEY

Heard M.H. Ahmed, learned counsel for the applicant.

The applicant by the present application is seeking condonation of delay of 2662 days in preferring the revision petition.

The applicant earlier approached this Court in CRP No.397/2003 under Section 115 read with Section 151 CPC and Article 227 of the Constitution of India against the order dated 12.09.2003, which has been dismissed as not maintainable. The applicant again approached this Court by way of the present revision petition together with an application for condonation of delay challenging the same order and invoking the same jurisdiction under Section 115 read with Section 151 CPC and Article 227 of the Constitution of India. The suit has been instituted in the year 1999.

Having regard to the grounds taken in the application and also the impugned order dated 12.09.2003 passed by the Court below, I am of the view that the petitioner could not demonstrate the sufficient cause for condoning the delay.

Hence the application seeking condonation of delay is dismissed.
