CORAM: The Hon'ble Mr. Justice Aparesh Kumar Singh

For the Petitioners: Mr. Rahul Kumar, Advocate

For the Respondents: Mr. Mrinal Kanti Roy, Advocate

03/ 30.09.2013 Heard learned counsel for the parties.

Learned counsel for the petitioners submits that the grievances for which the writ petitioners have approached this Court i.e. for release of payment of 40% of the gratuity amount and leave encashment amount, have already been paid during the pendency of the writ petition.

Learned counsel for the respondent-Bank submits that the affidavit, showing the payment of such balance amount of gratuity and leave encashment amount, has been filed in this case. In the circumstances, the grievances of the petitioners appear to have been redressed.

Learned counsel for the petitioners submits that the respondents should be directed to pay the statutory interest because of the delay in payment for the aforesaid claim.

The petitioners may prefer representation before the Competent Authority of the respondent-Bank, who shall consider the same in accordance with law within a reasonable time.

These writ petitions are accordingly, disposed of.
