Per Mohammad Yaqoob Mir, CJ:ORAL

1) The instant application has been filed on behalf of Meghalaya Soil Conservation Rangers Association seeking impleadment as party respondent. Learned counsel for petitioners has filed objection, according to him the applicants have no interest in the lis so they are neither necessary nor proper party, learned Advocate General has no objection as according to him the applicants are necessary party.

2) We have considered the submissions as made and perused the records, clash of interests between applicant and parties are apparent therefore by allowing the application to hear the applicants will help effectual adjudication of the issues. Therefore the applicant is impleaded as party respondent No. 19, necessary note to this effect shall be recorded in Cause Title of the petition. Learned counsel for petitioners to furnish copy of the petition as well as annexures to the applicant so as to enable him to file affidavit-in-opposition within four weeks.

3) The instant application shall stand accordingly disposed of.
