HON'BLE MR. JUSTICE INDERJEET SINGH

Judgment

23/03/2018

Counsel for the petitioner submits that the main application itself has been decided by the Rent Tribunal, therefore present writ petition has become infructuous.

Counsel further submits that the petitioner may be permitted to raise all the grounds in the appeal with regard to impugned order.

Counsel for the respondent has no serious objection to the submissions made by counsel for the petitioner.

In that view of the matter, the present writ petition is disposed of with liberty as prayed.
